

Portfolio Project

By Jim Farrugia

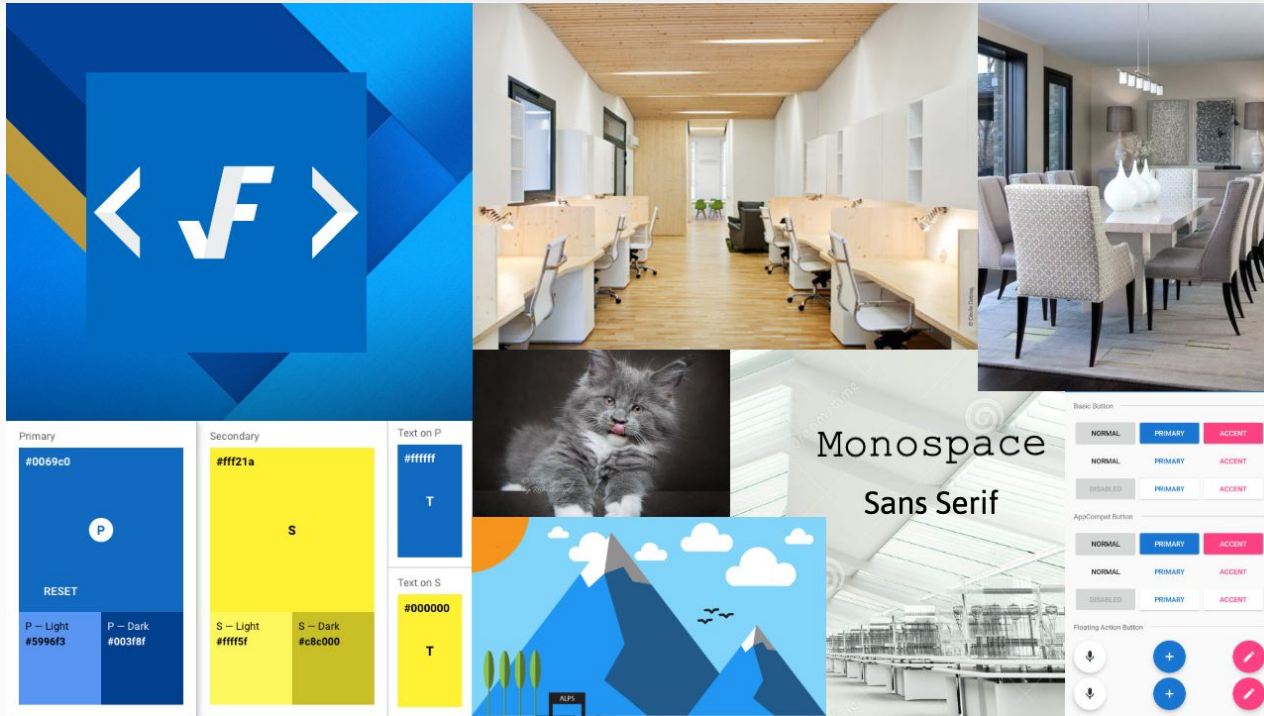

Organising Tasks with Trello

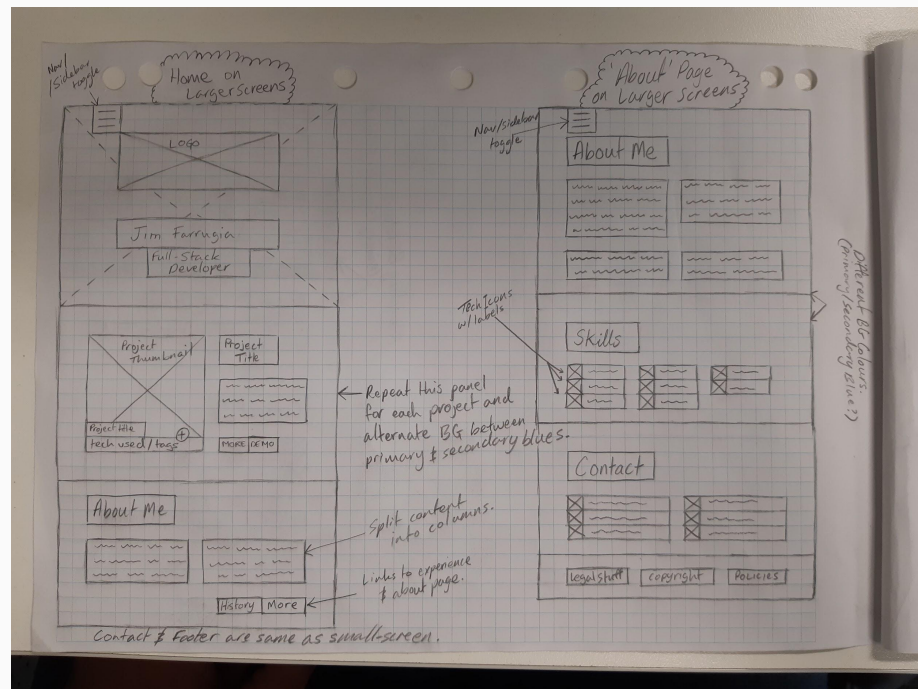

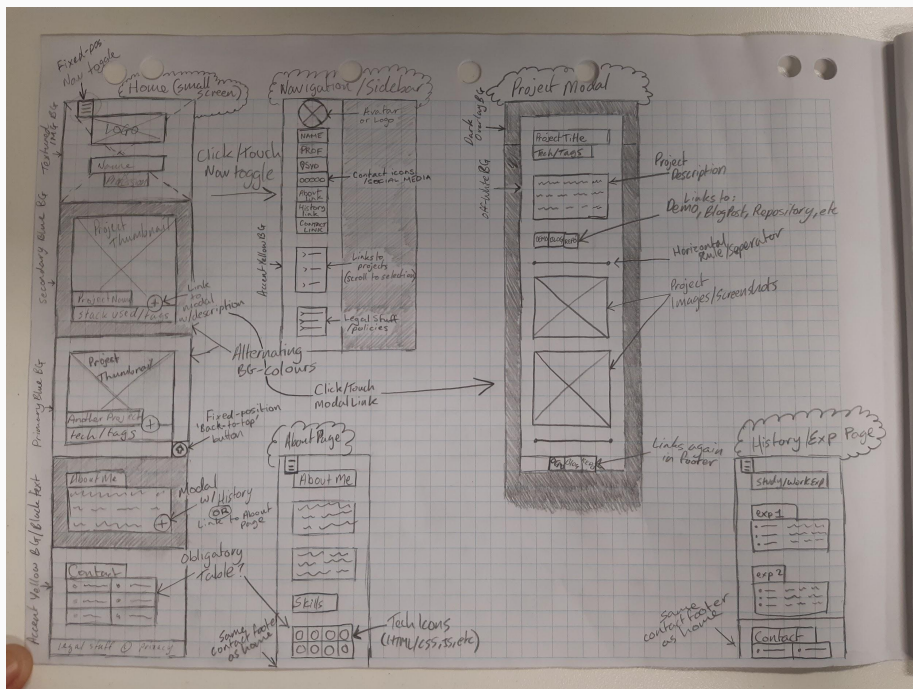

The screenshot displays a Trello board with five columns, each representing a stage in a project workflow. Each column has a title, a three-dot menu, and a list of task cards. Cards are color-coded with progress bars at the top and include due dates and expandable details.

- Assessment Requirements (Grey header):
 - Include info 'About Me' to demonstrate my personality. (Pink progress bar)
 - Include study and work history. (Pink progress bar)
 - Include name and contact details. (Orange and pink progress bars)
 - Link to Github and LinkedIn profiles. (Orange and pink progress bars)
 - Answer web questions (from assessment sheet) in documentation. (Blue progress bar)
 - Assets in /root/docs/. (Blue progress bar)
 - Prepare presentation. (Blue progress bar)
- To Do (Grey header):
 - Write study/work history content. (Pink progress bar, Due: Mar 21)
 - Gather links (GH, LJ, Twit, Med). (Pink progress bar, Due: Mar 21)
 - Gather icons for contact and skills. (Pink progress bar, Due: Mar 21)
 - Take screenshots of V1.0. (Blue progress bar, Due: Mar 21)
 - Setup dev environment. (Green progress bar, Due: Mar 21)
 - Setup file structure. (Green progress bar, Due: Mar 21)
- In Development (Grey header):
 - Scaffold README.md. (Blue, green, and pink progress bars, Due: Mar 20)
- In Testing (Grey header):
 - + Add a card
- Deployed / Done (Grey header):
 - Create mood board. (Green progress bar, Done: Mar 20)
 - Write project timeline. (Green progress bar, Done: Mar 20)
 - Write project plan. (Green progress bar, Done: Mar 20)
 - Write user stories. (Green progress bar)
 - Wireframe Layout. (Green progress bar)
 - Setup Trello board. (Green progress bar)
 - Study assessment requirements. (Green progress bar)

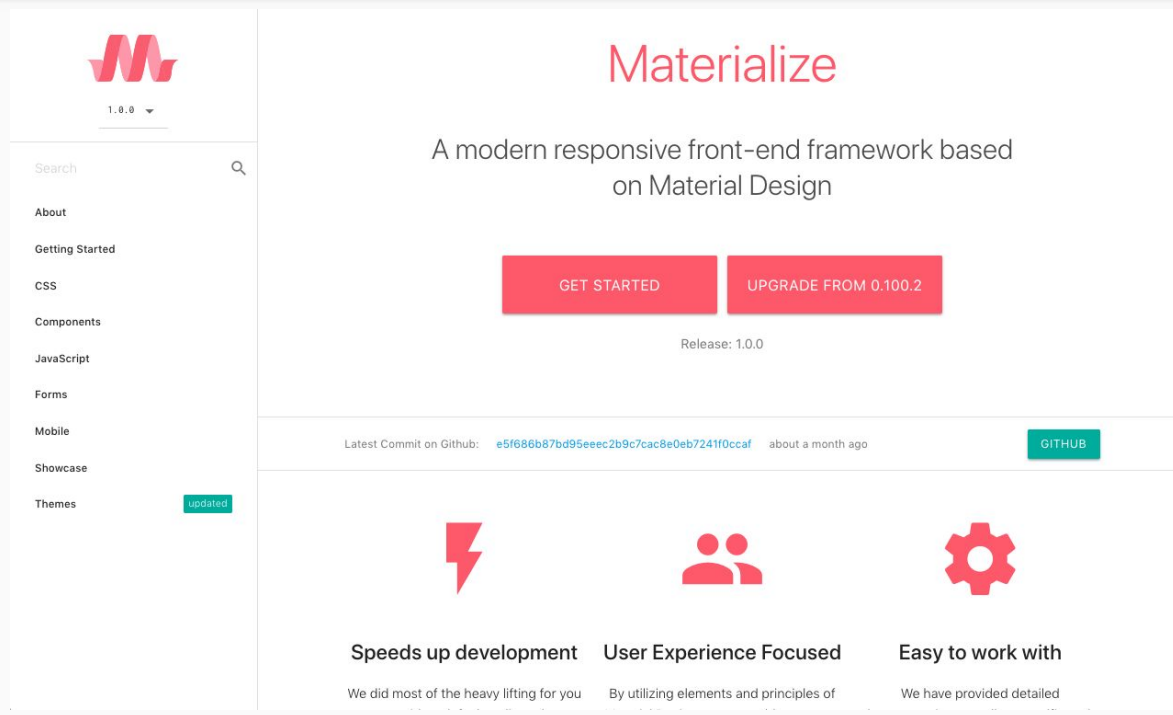

Moodboard

Wireframes

Materialize CSS

- Modal Windows
- Buttons
- Responsive Grid
- Sidebar
- Animations
- Much more...

Lots of examples in the docs:
<https://materializecss.com/>

The Live Website

Walk-through portfolio.

<https://jimfarrugia.github.io>

Questions?

Thanks for your time.